CENSUS OF INDIA 2011 - CIRCULAR No. 15

Subject:- Duties of the Census Officers.

The preparations for the conduct of Census of India 2011 are at an advanced stage. The first phase of the Census of India 2011 i.e. Housenumbering and Houselisting Operations will be conducted during April - September, 2010 in different States and UTs depending upon the local conditions. The appointment of Principal Census Officers, District Census Officers and Charge Officers, etc. have been completed in almost all the States/UTs. Most of the Directorates have started their training programmes and are imparting training to the officers at the State, District and Tahsil Headquarters. Subsequent to the completion of training of Principal Census Officers, District Census Officers and Charge Officers, the training to the enumerators and supervisors will commence for Housenumbering and Houselisting Operations.

The Census taking in the country is carried out under the provision of the Census Act and Census Rules and the amendments thereafter. The duties of the Census Officers have been identified under Rule 5 of the Census Rules 1990 of the Census Act 1948. For smooth conduct of Census Operations it is necessary that the Census Officers engaged in conducting of Houselisting Operations and Population Enumerations must be informed of their specific duties under the Census Act. Along with the duties some penalties have also been prescribed under the provisions of the Census Act under the Section 11. The specific duties of the Principal Census Officers, the District/Additional District or Sub-Divisional Census Officers, Charge Officers, Supervisors and Enumerators prescribed under Rule 5 of the Census Rule, 1990 of the Census Act are listed below:
